THE POTTERIES & HERITAGE ATTRACTIONS

Burleigh Pottery

Stoke-on-Trent is the World Capital of Ceramics. The city has been shaped by its production of pottery for centuries, building a city with a globally renowned reputation and history of innovation, science, art, culture, and commerce.

The story of Stoke-on-Trent's history and heritage is brilliantly told through our fantastic heritage attractions. Factory tours, outstanding visitor centres and museums, and the chance to try your hand at the potter's wheel mean you'll have an entertaining insight into the history and tradition, and the modern day industry of a time-honoured craft.

Gladstone Pottery Museum

World of Wedgwood, VisitEngland Gold Accolade attraction in Stoke-on-Trent, is the ultimate destination to experience the iconic brand and 260 years of history and craftsmanship. Featuring the UNESCO recognised V&A museum collection, Wedgwood factory tour, contemporary tea room, restaurant; pot throwing, pottery painting and ceramic design in the creative studios and the Wedgwood store, Factory Outlet and Gift Shop.

World of Wedgwood is an opportunity to 'learn by doing', to shop, eat and explore...

Explore one of the finest collections of ceramics in the world and trace 260 years of creation and innovation in the museum. Then take a Factory tour to see all aspects of our production processes and techniques. Discover the skill, talent and knowledge of our artisans that goes into every product.

Relax and enjoy a contemporary English afternoon tea in the Wedgwood Tea Room; an elegant and memorable experience perfect for special occasions. Or choose from our breakfast and lunch menus in The Dining Hall, celebrating locally sourced products and traditional British dishes.

Discover cutting-edge designs and the latest collections in the Wedgwood Store. Visit the Factory Outlet with wide range of tableware and gifts with up to 70% off and the Gift Shop for a souvenir of your visit.

Visit our creative studios where you can create your own keepsake or make a unique gift. Try your hand at throwing a pot on the potter's wheel, design your own piece of Wedgwood or have a go at pottery painting.

Open seven days a week, free parking. Visit our website or Facebook page for details of events, including our monthly Artisan Market.

FESTIVALS, EVENTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Stoke-on-Trent has an exciting programme of events throughout the year.

Stoke-on-Trent has a growing calendar of exciting festivals and events including Six Towns One City, Stoke-on-Trent Festival, Hot Air Literary Festival, the Stoke-on-Trent Classical Music Festival, Appetite's Street Arts Festival and The Big Feast. The British Ceramics Biennial is taking place across numerous venues in the city in from 7 September until 13 October 2019.

New Vic Theatre - Around the World in Eighty Days

We are home to incredible entertainment venues and outstanding theatres. These include the New Vic Theatre, the theatre in the round which has built a reputation for innovative productions of both new and classic works. The Cultural Quarter in the City Centre houses the Regent Theatre, a beautifully restored Art Deco theatre offering a high quality programme of grand opera, national ballet, drama, and West End musicals; and the Victoria Hall an outstanding concert hall offering a range of concerts, events, and stand-up comedians.

The Big Feast by Appetite

The Big Feast is Stoke-on-Trent's annual outdoor arts festival produced by Appetite. Taking over Stoke-on-Trent's City Centre (Hanley) for two days, this family-friendly event presents world-class artists and performances on the streets of Stoke-on-Trent for free!

Join us Friday 23 - Saturday 24 August 2019 for a fun-filled festival which promises something for everyone.

"Entertaining. Diversity of entertainment. Something for everyone. Family friendly!"
